

Dptych – conceptual photography

December, 2021

Diptych – project

Visual interplay

Conceptual photography

Juxtaposition presenting the concept

Deeper message

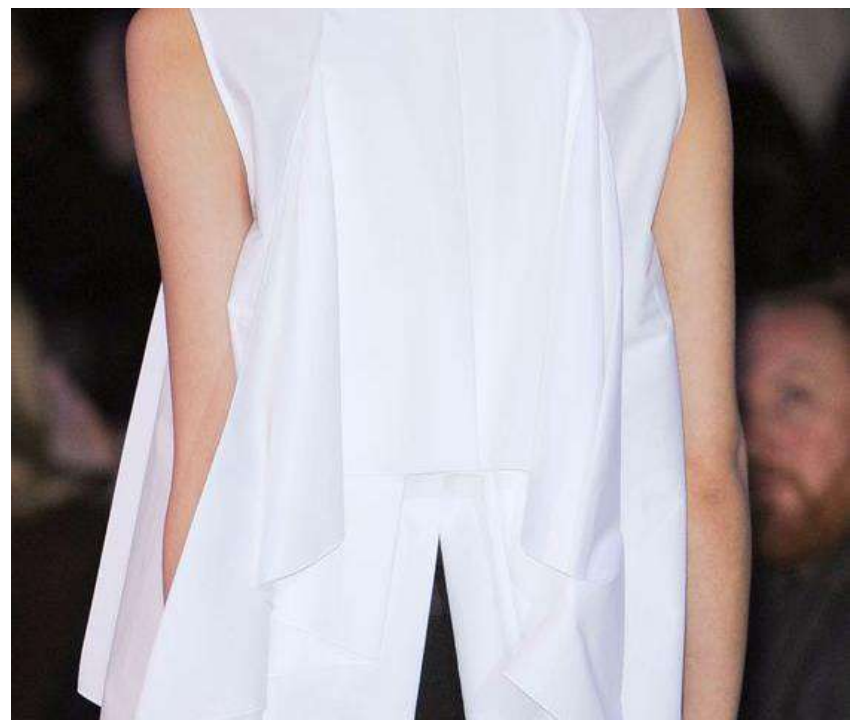

Unification

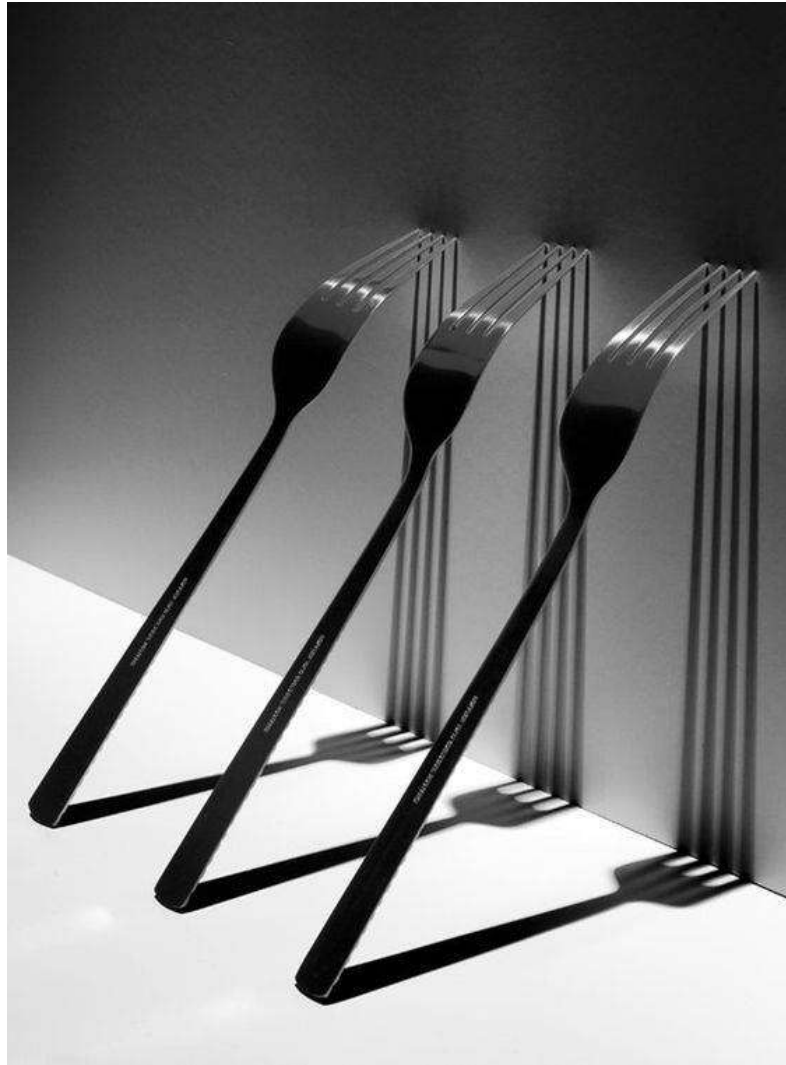

Aesthetical control

Concept - Introvert

Resolving the concept of the introvert with the object and the subject. For the subject, playout with the perspective of looking at the camera but the head is backwards.

For the object I decided to go with the fork and oppose it with its own shadow. Visual interplay seems like fork is looking at itself, because that's what kind of people introverts are – mostly oriented towards themselves.

Variations

I experimented with the model, clothing and posing to see later on what seems the best approach and what will work best when put next to the fork photograph.

INTROVERT – APPEARING AND DISAPPEARING

DECEMBER, 2021